Using this Calculator

When making funeral arrangements, many want to compare prices and services so that the funeral reflects a wise and well informed decision, as well as a meaningful one.

The Funeral and Cemetery Expense Calculator is designed to help you estimate these costs, and enable you to record the necessary facts for your family, your attorney and your executor.

A husband and wife should each make their own copy, even though much of the information may be duplicated.

We suggest you keep it and place it in a safe place so it will be there for possible revisions by you and later use for your family.

It is our hope that this information will give you peace of mind, knowing this information is readily available when needed. We also hope that in addition to guiding your own family as to your wishes, you may also be able to help a friend or relative who has not had the foresight to prepare.

Additional copies of this Calculator are available without charge at

Calculating Funeral and Cemetery Expenses

Funeral planning is an extension of will and estate planning. It allows you to choose the specific items you want and need and compare prices offered by several funeral providers.

One other important consideration is where the remains will be placed. It is in the family's best interest to obtain cemetery property before it is needed.

Calculating Funeral Expenses

The total cost of the funeral expenses will include Professional Fees, Merchandise, Disbursements and Taxes. Upon request, you will be able to obtain an itemized price list for comparison without cost or obligation from all facilities providing these services.

Using the Calculating Funeral Expenses Worksheet

The worksheet is designed to allow you choose the specific items you want and need, and compare prices offered for funeral expenses.

Make an appointment to talk to a few of the local funeral service providers to gather information before you are ready to make a final decision. Compare the prices and the service offered at different facilities, and choose one that best serves your needs.

Calculating Cemetery Expenses

Burial

The total cost of the cemetery expenses could include the burial plot, grave liner (the casket is placed into the grave liner to help prevent the grave from collapse), and a marker or monument. You also need to pay interment fees (for the opening and closing of the plot). If cemetery property is already owned, then the funeral provider could include some of these fees in the funeral disbursements, otherwise you may need to complete all the arrangements with the cemetery.

Cremation

The total cost of the cemetery expenses, in addition to the cost of cremation, could include an urn for the cremated remains, and/or a burial plot or niche. You will also need to pay an interment fee (for the opening and closing of the lot, niche or scattering of the cremated remains in a cremation garden)
